Examiner, Art Unit 2617

REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

1. This action is in response to the amendment and arguments filed on 5/19/2010.
 - (a) Claims 1, 5-7, 10, 14-15, 19, 23, 28 and 33 have been amended.

Information Disclosure Statement

2. The IDS filed July 9, 2010 has been acknowledged by the examiner.

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 1, 10, 19, 23, 28 and 33 are allowed over the prior art.

The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter:

In the Examiner's opinion, the prior art of record either singularly or in proper combination fails to teach the limitations as recited within the independent claims of the application.

Bonomi et al (US Patent No. 6,769,127 B1), Perkes (US Patent Publication No. 2003/0110503 A1), Pekonen (US Patent Publication No. 2003/0152107 A1) and McKenna et al (US Patent Publication No. 2002/0019228 A1) in combination disclose an apparatus configured to transmit a plurality of services comprising one or more service components in a time-sliced manner on a channel in consecutive bursts with an interval between the end of a first burst and before the start of a second burst, generate service identification data relating service components to services on the channel, repeatedly transmit the service identification data on the channel and repeatedly transmit information regarding the time and channel frequency service identification transmission will occur. The prior art references further disclose a mobile terminal configured to receive the repeatedly transmitted information regarding the time and frequency service identification data transmission will occur, decode the service identification data, hierarchically arrange the services and components and display the services providing service selection of data on the display.

However, the cited references fail to teach repeatedly transmitting and receiving information regarding the timing and channel frequency of subsequent transmissions of the service identification data.

Therefore, the prior art of record either singularly or in combination fails to teach the above claimed limitations for claims 1, 10, 19, 23, 28 and 33 and is therefore the reason for allowance. Claims 2, 4-9, 43 and 46 are dependent on claim 1; claims 12-18 are dependent on claim 10; claims 20 and 22 are dependent on claim 19; claims 24, 26-27, 29-30, 32 and 44 are dependent on claim 23; claim 45 is dependent on claim 28, and claims 35-37 and 39 are dependent on claim 33; therefore, the dependent claims are allowed under the same reasons set forth above.

Conclusion

4. The prior art not relied upon but considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure is made of record and listed on form PTO-892.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
